

foundation sprang. But since this document dated from 1686, it had necessarily been interpreted from the very beginning in order to adjust itself to the changes of the times. The General Chapter of the American Cassinese Congregation of 1890 decreed that the statutes be redrafted, and that the proposed articles be modeled after the form used by the Buronese Congregation, that is, a Commentary on the Rule in the form of Declarations. The Abbey of Beuron is located in southern Germany.

Benedictine daughter houses were soon to spring up in all parts of the North American continent. One of those Daughter Houses was
