

All was done! It was now time to stain the wood and finish it off with just the right varnish. As soon as the last coat of varnish was dry, the work was completed, and we see a front and back view of the new stalls.

