

Lifted into place, bolted down, and ready for use - finally the danger of damage is over. The work is finished - or almost finished. (The choir stalls for the other side are now in place.)

The Abbot makes sure! The work is not finished until the Abbot checks it out.

The Abbot is most grateful for this wonderful labor of love on the part of the Monks. Praise be to God!