

? WHAT GREAT HOSANNAS SHALL WE SING ?

The human race is facing the greatest crisis in all its history, and this because the human race has forced religion into the greatest crisis in all of religion's history. Without the support of religious principles, the whole human race suffers. The mind of materialistic modern man excludes everything other than that which benefits itself, its pleasure, its lust, and its greed. The force driving the thought of modern man is not supernatural. The central motivating force of modern man, his central driving desire, is entirely divorced from religion, and the ugliest part of it all is that religion – the Traditional Roman Catholic Religion – has gone astray and is blissfully sitting by, occupying itself with religious “matters of consequence.” The “new church” is doing nothing to solve the problems that befuddle mankind today; rather, it has become a large part of the problem.

The only thing that can save us – and the world – from complete moral collapse is a complete – and personal – religious revolution. Christianity by its very nature demands such a revolution. Christ Himself said so! But where is such a revolution to take place? To be effective, how is such a spiritual revolution to be brought about today?

There are those who persistently talk about a soon to come “Great Chastisement.” They look upon the hoped-for “Chastisement” as a wonderful “cure-all” of everything that ails poor afflicted mankind! For them, the “Great Chastisement” will mark the end of “MISERY,” and the beginning of “GLORY.” Such ones look upon the “Chastisement” very much as the early Jews looked upon the expected MESSIAS. Only the names are different. Today we pray for the “Chastisement” to happen, and we wait for it keenly. Such a view however is quite defective. Moreover, just as the early Jews gave all the wrong reasons and looked in all the wrong places for the Messiah, today's “Chastisement” seekers are giving all the wrong reasons and are looking in all the wrong places and dreaming of all the wrong hoped-for results of the “Chastisement.” Exactly as was expected of the MESSIAS, the “Chastisement” is expected to manifest itself with cataclysmic power and force. It will have a grand and dramatic entrance! Predictions of a tremendous force, shaking the whole earth with killing vibrations and the destruction of everything presently known and enjoyed by man, are propagated by a remnant race of God's children. The remnant, in some cases quite small – even down to one or two – as some believe, will be safely snug in something like Noah's ark, floating about safely while everything all around them is being beaten down by the “Great Chastisement”!
