

All the designs of God that He planned from the very beginning will be fulfilled!
Despite the falling away of so many of His priests; despite the desertion of so many of His valued servants; despite the bad faith of so many of His children; His designs will all be fulfilled!

God will keep His promise!

Of this we can all be certain. For the sake of those who unfailingly continue to believe,

God will keep His promise!

Even though His faithful children will have much to suffer and much to endure ~ they always have ~ and though His faithful children will be cast out into the exterior darkness of loneliness and uncertainty,

God will keep His promise!

Love is the Supreme Good,

and an uncompromising faith must follow.

In His eternal knowledge, God has known that there will remain a remnant people who love, a remnant people of unshakable faith, small in number, perhaps, but a remnant people who have an unswerving desire to suffer whatever is necessary in order to love, to believe, to hope, to adore.

In His eternal knowledge, God has always known that there will be such a remnant people who will finally ensure the completion of His promise. All the designs and plans of God will be fulfilled! Without fear must we believe. Amongst other things, love casts out fear! ~ "Behold, I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

God will keep His promise!
