

Protect Our Priceless Treasures

The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is the CENTRAL ACT OF WORSHIP of the Roman Catholic Church — the Mass crowned by a 2000-year worship history. Throughout its venerable history, the Mass has brought about the accumulation of countless and, in most cases, very valuable treasures. The pages of history are quite full of accounts telling of the attempts made by man to put an end to the Mass. In the process, many of the irreplaceable religious treasures used for the purpose of the Holy Sacrifice have been destroyed. The same thing is happening today.

Men are hard at work to put an end to the 2000-year worship history of the Roman Catholic Church. They seem determined to interrupt the continuous Sacrifice of Calvary, and the Supreme Act of reparation to the infinite God. Nearly every Catholic Church has been “remodeled and updated” — altars have been removed and destroyed, sanctuaries have been leveled to the ground, and the House of God has been turned into a meeting facility, a place nobody wants to visit at any time other than when services are being conducted. Consequently all things reminiscent of the Old Order of Sacrifice have been “massacred,” as it were, and in too many instances, the “massacre” of Sacred things has been conducted by the very ones who once enjoyed their use and were careful custodians of them.

However, many of the great treasures have been hidden, tucked away by responsible people of clear and pure faith, to protect them from man’s inhumanity and irreligious inclinations.

Our past is full of the bloodshed of our holy martyrs, brought about at the hands of brutal conquerors. Those great conquerors have come and are
