WHERE DOES THE POWER OF GOD RESIDE?

Our Blessed Lord, Jesus, did not choose the learned and the great and the important ones in the eyes of the world to found His Church, Saint Paul expressly tells us, otherwise the rapid spread of the early Church - the rapid spread and growth of Christianity - would have been attributed to the talents and "wisdoms" of the prestigious names to be found in the annals of history. With great care did God choose the poor and the ignorant and the and UNKNOWN to set the standard of the early Christian Church and of those poor souls He made vessels of election, whereas on the other hand much harm is done to souls by the oversized pride of those who go about trying to intellectualize and analyze that which cannot be explained about the omnipotence of God. Such ones are they who cannot accept the principal that God works outside the weak and limited definitions of man. The fruit of man's inflated ego unerringly furthers confusion in the mind and heart of Man.
